Take the Risk: A Rational Approach to Taking Risks

Dr Benjamin S Carson

February 18, 2009

8:45am-10:00am

Many people lack achievement in their lives because they are afraid to take risks. Others fail because they take too many of the wrong risks. As Director of Pediatric Neurosurgery at an internationally renowned medical center, Dr Ben Carson faces many challenging and risky cases every week. But achieving such a position, from the depths of the societal hierarchy, also included a life of risk-taking. Using his latest book, Take the Risk: Learning to Identify, Choose and Live with Acceptable Risk, Carson will walk the audience through a method to successfully use risk both at work and home.

In 2001, Dr Carson was named by CNN and TIME Magazine as one of the nation's 20 foremost physicians and scientists. In June 2008, he was awarded the Presidential Medal of Honor by the President, which is the highest civilian honor in the land. He has literally received hundreds of other awards during his distinguished Career.

Session fee of $75.00 includes Continental Breakfast and Dr Carson's presentation.

A Test of Will: One Man's Extraordinary Story of Survival

Warren Macdonald, Inspirational Adventurer

February 19, 2009

8:45am-10:00am

Warren's story is a gripping tale of profound courage, strength of spirit and sheer tenacity in the face of overwhelming odds. A story that will both haunt and inspire you from the first moment of catastrophe.

Warren will not only share about his story of how the strength of the human spirit and boundaries of the human potential were stretched to the limits by his accident and the two horrendous days trapped beneath a massive slab of rock, but also will share about his experiences with the healthcare team as a patient undergoing bilateral leg amputation and the associated recovery process. Warren was the first person with an above the knee amputation to reach the summit of Africa's tallest peak, Mt. Kilimanjaro. His story exemplifies a mindset of looking for opportunities rather than obstacles.

Session fee of $75.00 includes Continental Breakfast and Warren's presentation.
